This event will teach Girl Scouts different methods to garden in smaller spaces that most wouldn't think were suitable for growing food stuffs. We will try some Camp Grown Produce, compare local grown foods to grocery store foods, and build a take home set to begin your own home garden.

Did you know that each horse in our herd has tack (that's the saddle, bridle, breastplate, and saddle pads) that are fitted just to them? Just like how you want your shoes to fit well so you can do your best each day, the horses also need their tack to fit correctly as well.

In this STEM at the Barn day, we will look at different shapes of saddles, how the horse's conformation (that's body shape), the materials of pads and girths, and different pads all affect how the saddle fits the horse. You will get to team up with our Equestrian crew to help make sure that all the Meriwether horses have the best fitting saddle before summer camp.

Along the way, we will also explore how different saddle shapes and styles can affect how the rider balances using our ground barrels, and look at different styles of saddles from Western's Barrel racing, trail, and reining, to English's Jumping, Dressage, and "All-purpose". We might even get to see some other saddle styles from past era's as well.

This event focuses on ground based interactions with our horses as part of saddle fitting and does not include riding. Participants should be comfortable leading a horse, and will need to wear closed toe shoes such as tennis shoes or hiking boots.
